A Guide to The Guide

Welcome to the 124th Western Amateur Championship, and the 23rd edition of The Western Amateur Records & Statistics Guide, as the championship returns to The Beverly Country Club in Chicago for the third time. Previous winners at The Bev are John Lehman (1930) and Beau Hossler (2014).

Since the first playing at the Glen View Golf & Polo Club in 1899, the Western Amateur has provided some of the best competition in golf, amateur or professional. This record book allows reporters covering the Western Am the ability to easily compare current achievements to those of the past. It draws on research conducted by delving into old newspaper files, and by going through the Western Golf Association's own Western Amateur files, which date to 1949.

This edition of the Guide presents complete scoring records, including stroke-play qualifying and a game story, for the years 2015-2025, in addition to the year-by-year records and a player register for 1899 through 1955, the pre-Sweet Sixteen era. Plans call for going back through the years to 1899, and expanding the Player Register to include stroke play competition as well.

Details on some courses and field sizes from various years remain to be found, but no other amateur championship has such an in-depth resource. Remaining holes in the listings will continue to be filled in.

The section on records has been expanded, and begins on page 10. This includes overall records, including a summary on how the medalist fared, and the college of the champion in most cases.

The 234-page Guide is in two sections.

Part I includes a year-by-year summary chart, records, a special chart detailing the 39 players who have played in the Sweet Sixteen in the 69 years since its adoption in 1956 and have won a professional major championship, and a comprehensive report on the Sweet Sixteen era through both year-by-year results and a player register. This is a convenient reference source to see how the 848 individuals who have advanced to the Western Am's match play competition have fared since the Sweet Sixteen format was adopted, which coincided with the rise of college golf and the dominance of the Western Am by those players.

Part II features the early era of the Western Amateur, from 1899 through 1955, with year-by-year summaries of every match, and a player register. There are 1,267 players who competed exclusively in that era, while those whose careers crossed over from the early years to the Sweet Sixteen years are listed in each part. Thus, through the first 123 playings of the Western Amateur, 2,115 players have advanced to match play.

It will be noted that the career amateurs, thanks to their longevity on the amateur scene, own most of the records, but the college players have garnered the great majority of the championships.

We invite your thoughts on corrections and improvements to the Guide, and hope you find it useful.

The Sweet Sixteen and the Majors

Since the Western Amateur adopted the format featuring 16 match play qualifiers in 1956, 39 players advancing to the Sweet Sixteen have gone on to win 97 playings of the current four major professional championships. Three players, Jack Nicklaus, Tom Watson and Eldrick "Tiger" Woods, account for 41 of those victories, with 18, 8 and 15 titles, respectively. Twenty-three of the players have won a single major. The major champions first tested in the Western Am:

Armstrong makes history in scoring sudden-death victory

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Sugar Grove, Illinois

Dawson Armstrong has this penchant for the dramatic.

He'll hole a long putt, or sink a long chip shot, and like that, the match he's playing will turn around.

He did so several times in the 113th Western Amateur on August 8 at Rich Harvest Farms.

The first time, it brought Armstrong the momentum in his semifinal match against Robby Shelton IV.

The last time, it won Armstrong the championship. The 19-year-old from Brentwood, Tenn., a sophomore at Lipscomb University, holed out a 50-foot bunker shot on the second extra hole for an eagle 3 and victory over 19-year-old Aaron Wise of Lake Elsinore, Calif.

"My actual first thought when it went in? The pain in my stomach went away." Armstrong said. "My stomach started cramping up on me as soon as we finished the first hole. I did not feel good."

Armstrong won the first sudden-death championship since Ryan Moore's 19-hole triumph over James Nitties in 2004. But nobody in the 117-year history of the Western Golf Association had won any WGA title as dramatically as Armstrong. His sand wedge from the deep bunker fronting the second green hopped twice and, with a gallery of about 100 watching at 5:15 p.m., dove into the cup.

"I ran up about two feet, and it hit the pin and dropped in," Armstrong said. "When we got up there, my dad told me, 'You've had a lot of great shots, but nothing's gone in.' I was, 'All right, let's try to knock this in.' I knew he was going to birdie it.

"I was trying to land it just over the ridge and trickle it down. It was going to have to be a lucky shot, and it was extremely lucky."

Fittingly, the second hole at Rich Harvest Farms is called "Chance."

"That was an incredible shot," Wise said. "Not much I could do about that."

Wise, who had reached the green of the 552- yard par-5 in two, still had a 25-foot downhill putt to force a third extra hole. He ran it by, and Armstrong was the champion.

"I'd missed a couple of putts low coming in, so I played a little more break on that one, and unfortunately it stayed out," Wise said.

Armstrong led only twice earlier in the match, and for only a hole in each case. He was 1 up after seven and nine holes, but Wise squared the match on the next hole each time, a brace of birdies moving him 1 up after 13 holes. Armstrong squared the match with a birdie on the 14th, and made a remarkable save from the junk to the left of the par-3 16th.

"It was the perfect shot for that moment," Armstrong said.

Wise's par save on the par-4 17th gave him the lead going to the last when Armstrong made one of his few mistakes, a putt through the fringe that never got anywhere. But his 90-foot up-and-down birdie on the par-5 18th, coupled with Wise three-putting from the back fringe after a bold approach, forced extra holes.

2016 114th Western Amateur

August 2-6 Knollwood C, Lake Forest, Ill. 7,202 yards, par 71

Meyer emerges from Sweet Sixteen playoff to take it all

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Lake Forest, Illinois

This time, there wasn't an impromptu water bottle shower from Illinois teammate Nick Hardy.

This time, there was a bear hug Hardy applied to Dylan Meyer on the 17th green after Sam Horsfield had conceded the 114th Western Amateur championship match at Knollwood Club on Saturday afternoon.

The margin was 3 and 1, largely because Horsfield, after missing the green on the par-3 17th with Meyer on the putting surface and dormie 2, felt it necessary to go for the cup to win the hole and keep the match alive. Horsfield overshot the mark and after one more stroke, took off his hat and offered his hand.

"He was 20 feet away and I had to make it," Horsfield said. "I tried to get aggressive. It didn't work out."

"I didn't expect that," Meyer said. "I thought I'd be putting."

It also might not have been expected that Horsfield, the world No. 2 amateur from Manchester, England via Florida, would surrender the 2-up lead he'd forged after five holes, especially after roaring back from four down on the back nine of his morning semifinal match against Davis Riley with eight holes to play.

But that happened, Horsfield ousting Riley, who scored 5-under 30 on the front, 2 and 1 by winning six of the last seven holes. Four hours later, the reverse happened, elevating Meyer into the upper ranks of American amateurs.

The turnabout aside, neither Meyer nor Horsfield played particularly brilliant golf. Including the usual concessions, Meyer was 1-under, Horsfield 2-over, with Meyer hitting six of 13 fairways off the tee and just nine of 17 greens in regulation. Horsfield hit seven fairways and 10 greens.

Where the 140-pound Meyer excelled was in overcoming Horsfield's prodigious distance off the tee with a tantalizing short game that outperformed his foe.

"That doesn't bother me at all," Meyer said of being outdriven consistently. "I know my place. I'm not going to be a Dustin Johnson. I'm going to be a Zach Johnson. I'm going to short-game the death out of a golf course."

Meyer's only bogey of the day came on the par-4 fifth, when he failed to get up-and-down from 18 feet to save par, and handed Horsfield his 2-up advantage.

After that, Meyer authored five par saves in seven holes, starting the run by winning the sixth – which Horsfield three-putted for the fourth time in eight competitive rounds – and seventh to square the match. He took the lead on the par-5 10th with his best approach of the day, a saucy wedge to two feet to set up a birdie 4, then ran down a 20-footer to save par on the 11th, punctuated by a fist pump.

Meyer is the first Fighting Illini to win the Western Amateur.

Meyer's 4 and 2 semifinal victory over William Gordon was simple. He won the first, fourth and seventh holes and never led by less than 2-up the rest of the way.

Xiong outlasts Redman in longest sudden-death championship match

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Glencoe, Illinois

Between them, Norman Xiong and Doc Redman may well win over $100 million on the pro tour. They're that talented, and there's that much money out there.

None of that lucre will be able to supplant the memory of their championship match for the Western Amateur crown at Skokie Country Club. Xiong's par on the fourth extra hole proved the difference in the longest overtime of the 115 championship matches.

"It could have gone either way," Xiong said. "It was solid golf. To win this tournament, it's such a long battle, stroke play followed by match play."

"There were massive swings, and I guess I just slowly got momentum back on the back," said Redman, who was 4 down at the turn but squared the match on the 17th and nearly won it twice after that.

Played before a gallery that reached 600 at some points, the match was replete with splendid shots, long putts falling in, and a few that edged the cup. Both players felt both the pressure of playing for the second-oldest title in American amateur golf, and experienced the joy of being in the middle of the battle.

It was 19-year-old Redman's uncharacteristically short drive on the 22nd hole, Skokie's fourth, a 441-yard test, that undid him. The duo had matched pars on the first two holes – Xiong lipping out a potential winner on the 19th and Redman lipping out a winning putt for the second time in three holes on the 20th – and traded birdies on the par-5 third, Xiong sinking his from 18 feet. Now Redman had 173 yards remaining from the left edge of the carpet-like fairway. Xiong was 49 yards ahead of him on the same line, with a greenside bunker threatening both.

"It was an in-between yardage for me, and I was trying to hit a draw, which I'm not very good at, and it didn't work out well," Redman said, revealing perhaps the only flaw in his game.

The shot ended up two feet short of the green on the right side, with the cup sitting on a ledge back left. He was over 100 feet away, while Xiong dropped his approach 12 feet away.

Redman was still 12 feet short on his first putt, and after Xiong rolled his birdie attempt close, Redman missed, ending a dramatic duel.

Xiong, an 18-year-old from Canyon Lake, Calif., entering his sophomore year at Oregon, became the 25th medalist to also win the championship, and the 13th to do so in the Sweet Sixteen era.

No Western Amateur final match had ever gone three extra holes, much less four.

Still 3 down with four holes to play, Redman won the 15th with a birdie and the next two holes via Xiong bogeys, squaring the match on the 17th green when Xiong conceded a par putt of about three feet after missing his own par putt. The gallery, having seen Xiong concede a 2 1/2-footer on the previous hole, gasped before dashing to the 18th tee.

"They weren't too long," Xiong said. "They were simple putts. I don't someone would miss them, and if they did, I don't want to win a hole like that."

Hammer lives up to name in dominating the week at Sunset Ridge

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Northfield, Illinois

If Cole Hammer wants to take up another sport, he might consider running the marathon.

If he does, bet on him. Hammer, an 18-year-old perpetual motion machine, played a record-tying 76 holes in match play on Friday and Saturday, surviving each match.

His Western Amateur championship match with Davis Riley at Sunset Ridge Country Club appeared for a time to be a rout. Hammer was 4-up at the turn. Then Riley rallied, cutting the gap to 1-up after his birdie on the par-5 16th, even though he questioned the pin placement.

Riley could get no closer, halving the last two holes to make Hammer the 1-up champion.

Hammer isn't the youngest to win, nor did he dominate, as two 20-hole wins will attest, but he may have the most complete game at 18 since Tiger Woods. He's as long as necessary, has full and half-wedges at his command, and, most important, rolled in almost every putt he needed to across five days as co-medalist and champion.

"Surreal," Hammer said. "This is the biggest day in my golf career without question. Nothing even compares. Individually this by far is the biggest tournament I've ever won, and to do it here at Sunset Ridge with my mom (Allison) on the bag, it really means the world."

This one was all his, from his 23-under-par 261 stroke-play total to share the medal to knocking off four straight foes in matches.

"I knew he had game," said Riley, a 21-year-old entering his senior year at Alabama. "He said he'd admired me since he was 10, and now he just beat me."

On the first nine, it appeared the feat would be easy. As the mercury climbed to 98 degrees, Riley seemed to be melting away. Hammer won the third hole with a birdie after a wedge to two feet, won the sixth with a birdie after a wedge to a foot, won the seventh with an eagle by draining a cross-green 60-footer, and rolled in a mere 20-footer to win the ninth hole.

"I just kept telling myself I was playing great," Hammer said.

Four-down at the turn, Riley would have been excused for sneaking into the clubhouse at that point and jumping into a waiting car at the front door, but he saw hope in the middle of the muddle.

"I didn't really have much doubt," Riley said of his comeback hopes. "I had faith in what I was doing."

Riley got up and down for par on the par-4 11th while Hammer three-putted from eight feet above the hole, then nearly drove the 12th green and chipped to six feet for birdie and a second straight hole, narrowing the margin to two holes.

Hammer called a birdie putt to halve the 13th "a huge momentum putt."

The match was loaded with great shots, and was clearly tense by the 17th, when short putts that would usually have been conceded were not. It was only 1-up in Hammer's favor after Riley's birdie on No. 16. That rattled Hammer, but he and Riley matched pars on No. 17, and that was it.

Hockey referee Rank checks in as unlikely champion

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Millburg, Michigan

Garrett Rank was the only player in the 117th Western Amateur's Sweet Sixteen who didn't use a caddie. As a 31-year-old with, as he calls it, "the best job in the world," that of National Hockey League referee, he could afford a looper. But his father, his biggest fan, died five years ago.

"I saw a lot of mums and dads caddying for their sons out here this week," Rank said. "Ultimately, secretly, I pushed my bag around in my dad's honor, and felt like he was out there with me every step of the way."

Mid-amateur Rank was the first player 25-plus to crash the Sweet Sixteen since Nathan Smith, then 30, in 2009.

Rank's employment hints at Canadian roots, and sure enough, he's from Elmira, Ontario.

On top of all that, Rank is a cancer survivor. Diagnosed with testicular cancer during his sophomore year at the University of Waterloo, he had to drop the hockey half of his hockey-and-golf scholarship.

Once cleared of cancer and graduated, he enrolled in referee camp and quickly worked his way up to the NHL. Since 2012, when he lost to the aforementioned Smith in the final of the U.S. Mid-Amateur at Conway Farms Golf Club, and thus missed a trip to the Masters, summer has meant serious golf, usually against younger players.

"That's what's driven me in golf for the last seven years," Rank said. "And this is pretty much the Masters of amateur golf. I've been playing in this high-level stuff for seven or eight years and it's gotten me into some cool situations."

You know where this is leading, of course. Rank not only made the Western Amateur's vaunted Sweet Sixteen, he won the championship, scoring a 3 and 2 victory over recent Ohio State graduate Daniel Wetterich before a gallery of about 300 at Point O'Woods Golf and Country Club.

Rank's name was engraved on the George Thorne Trophy, the same one featuring Chick Evans, Jack Nicklaus, Phil Mickelson and Tiger Woods, to fill out just one notable foursome. Oh, and Danny Green, the last mid-amateur to win. He was 40 when he won in 1997.

Rank trailed in all four of his matches, but rallied each time. He rolled in long birdie and par putts to win holes, birdie putts to halve holes, and generally out-gritted his opponents. Not the longest hitter, he was more accurate than them. At the Point, where quick greens put a premium on well-struck approaches, the fairway is the place to be.

In the final, Rank hit seven of 13 fairways across 16 holes. Wetterich hit four fairways. Rank only hit 11 greens to Wetterich's nine, but even some of his misses were calculated. For instance, going long with his scrambling third shot on the par-4 14th, where the cup was placed in a precarious spot on the back left of the massive false-fronted green. After a stylish chip, he missed a four-footer for par, but matched Wetterich's bogey to stay 1-up.

Rank advanced to the title match by beating hot-tempered David Laskin 2 and 1 in the semifinal. Wetterich knocked off Ricky Castillo 3 and 2, in part by scoring an eagle out of a greenside bunker on the par-5 13th.

Coody straight at the Stick to the sounds of silence

From IG News Services
Reporting from Carmel, Indiana

Pierceson Coody has a memorable name. Not everybody one encounters is named Pierceson, for one thing, and a Coody involved in golf indicates a certain pedigree.

Such is the case with Mr. Coody. He hails from Plano, Texas, is the grandson of 1971 Masters winner Charles Coody, and plays up to said pedigree. That was clear in early August, where he survived the five-day grind known as the Western Amateur to won the 118th edition of the championship, the first played in a pandemic in a century.

Because of the precarious COVID-19 health situation, spectators were not allowed at Crooked Stick Golf Club, the Pete Dye-designed course that has hosted a pair of BMW Championships, the PGA Championship won by John Daly, and a U.S. Women's Open, and whose members are equally crazy for amateur golf.

That's a shame, for Coody, a 20-year-old junior at Texas, put on a show in beating 21-year-old Dane Rasmus Neergaard-Petersen, of the Copenhagen Neergaard-Petersens, in scoring a 2-and-1 victory in the championship match.

Coody birdied the first hole and never trailed. He finished Neergaard-Petersen off on the 17th by making par. Coody's tee shot on the par-3 17th found the right rough, but his 20-foot par-saver pressured Neergaard-Petersen to make his 5-footer for par to get the match to the last. He missed.

"That's match play," Coody said. "His putt became a lot longer and a lot harder. He knew if he missed, it's the end of the game."

Coody's biggest previous victory was in last year's Trans-Miss Amateur.

"It's definitely a steppingstone, and it feels so good," Coody said. "It was such a tough test. The pins in the afternoon were absolutely brutal. The course is so punishing if you miss it in the wrong spots. But I had a lot of consistent play. That was the key."

Coody had qualified with a 4-under-par 284 in the grind, tying for 10th in the Sweet Sixteen. He beat Alexander Yang of Carlsbad, Calif., in the Round of 16, closing him out on the 17th hole. He had an easier time in Friday afternoon's quarterfinal match against Connor Creasy of Abingdon, Va., a 5 and 4 closeout.

Virginia freshman George Dunagmanee of Fairfax, Va., was a tougher customer in Saturday morning's semifinal, but Coody prevailed, 1 up, largely via an eagle on the par-5 15th, which tied a match he had trailed throughout. The eagle shook Dunagmanee, Coody parred the 16th for the lead, and advanced to the final against Neergaard-Peterson, who needed three extra holes to dispose of Ricky Castillo of Yorba Linda, Calif., the second-ranked amateur on the planet. The Dane was 3 up at the turn and then withstood a Castillo rally to extend the match.

The victory was the seventh by a Texas Longhorn in the Western Am. Coody joins an elite group that includes Ben Crenshaw and Justin Leonard, as well as Cole Hammer, whose victory in 2018 came before he went to Austin for his freshman year.

Although he led from start to finish, Coody's biggest lead in the final was just 2 up, first following a par at No. 6 and then after a par at No. 14.

Dominant Thorbjornsen saves his best for last

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Golf, Illinois

Michael Thorbjornsen ran the table at the Glen View Club during the Western Amateur, doing everything but crashing the Saturday night wedding reception.

The 19-year-old settled for setting the course record – 62 – winning the stroke-play medal and capturing the 119th Western Amateur through four difficult matches, the last a 4 and 3 victory over Gordon Sargent.

What does a champion teen golfer do to celebrate? He and his caddie trekked downtown on Sunday for Lollapalooza.

The 27th medalist to win the title and first since co-medalist Cole Hammer in 2018, Thorbjornsen, from Wellesley, Mass., closed out Sargent with a 35-foot two-putt on the 15th green, but he really won the title by winning the 11th, 12th and 13th holes with birdies to forge a 4-up lead. He was 4-under across 15 holes, including the usual concessions.

"I was 3-up through eight; it's always nice to have that cushion," Thorbjornsen said. "Then he won nine and 10 and you can kind of feel the momentum switch. He's starting to build some confidence, but I've got to remember I'm still leading."

He sank a 12-foot birdie downhill putt on the par-3 11th to take the momentum back, dropped his approach on the par-4 12th to two feet for another birdie, then sank a 8-footer for a birdie 4 on the 550-yard 13th. With that, the Stanford sophomore all but sealed the fate of Sargent, a two-time Alabama Amateur champ from Birmingham who enters Vanderbilt this fall.

"Gordon got a little unlucky with his tee shot (on No. 12)," Thorbjornsen said.

"I never had too much momentum," Sargent said. "I kinda gave him some holes. He made a great birdie on 11 and I gave him 12; I tried to lay up and I hit a 5-iron 240. From there, I really struggled. And he played really well, so, not much I can do."

Thorbjornsen came from 1 down with four holes left to beat Austin Greaser 2 up in the morning semifinal, which was both dramatic and gave him momentum after lunch.

"Those last three holes against Austin were pretty heated," Thorbjornsen said. "I guess that flowed over. I was pretty zoned in, focused, and tried to keep that same mentality in the afternoon.

"I hit some good drives when I needed to, good irons, good chips, and had some good lag putting."

Sargent knocked off defending champion and world No. 2 Pierceson Coody 1 up in his morning semifinal. That and his appearance in the championship match persuaded the USGA to award Sargent one of the five remaining places in the U.S. Amateur. He went into the Western Am 64th in the world amateur rankings. Thorbjornsen came in 71st.

"These's nothing negative you're going to take away from this week," Sargent said. "There are only positives I can take. This is probably the best amateur field, and I still beat a lot of good players."

Greaser comes back from oblivion to kiss the Thorne Trophy

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Highland Park, Illinois

As Austin Greaser tells it, he was 45 minutes from going down the highway on Thursday night, Exmoor Country Club in his rear-view mirror, before the misfortune of two other players created a 7-for-2 playoff for the Sweet Sixteen of the 120th Western Amateur.

Greaser was the first of the two survivors to match play, and ended up the last man standing. A 21-year-old native of Vandalia, Ohio and senior at North Carolina, Greaser won the title with a dramatic back-nine rally featuring some of the sharpest golf the Western Am has seen in years.

Greaser, 2 down to Mateo Fernandez de Oliveira of Argentina and the Arkansas Razorbacks after three holes, 1 down at the turn and 2 down again after 11 holes, won four straight holes with birdies, then withstood a final rally by the plucky Argentinian to score a 1 up victory.

"I hit some really nice shots and got some putts to go, and guess that was the deciding factor," Greaser said.

It was, after one more twist. Greaser gave Fernandez de Oliveira an opening by parring the 17th hole when Fernandez de Oliveira drilled an approach to four feet and made birdie to close the gap to 1 down. Each hit the fairway on the 18th, then Fernandez de Oliveira dropped his approach 12 feet from a bunker-guarded cup, and Greaser bounced his approach into the rough behind the green.

He had hit the previous 16 greens in regulation and had putted from the right fringe on the first hole. By his standards, this was a wild shot. Now he had to get up-and-down for par and hope Fernandez de Oliveira missed his birdie chance to force extra holes.

Greaser's flop shot stopped about four feet from the cup. Fernandez de Oliveira stepped up and gave it a good look but ran his putt three feet by. Greaser sank the par putt, punctuating it with a mini fist-pump with his left hand. Minutes later, that hand had the George Thorne Trophy in its grasp.

Greaser was non-plussed by Fernandez de Oliveira holing out from a bunker to win the third hole and go 2 up in the match.

"Not to brag, but I holed out from bunkers twice against Michael Thorbjornsen in last year's semifinals," he said, not needing to say that Thorbjornsen won that match and went on to win the title.

"Like I told everybody, I just kept trying to execute my game plan," Greaser added.

Clearly, Greaser did not arrive at Exmoor fresh off the pickle boat. Along with last year's Western Am experience, he was runner-up in last year's U.S. Amateur. That got him into the Masters and U.S. Open, and he made the cut in the latter. Plus, he won the individual title in the NCAA Regional North Carolina played in.

Now, he's won one of the biggest titles in world amateur golf.

Kobori rallies to beat Maas at North Shore

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Glenview, Illinois

Kazuma Kobori is a 5-foot-7 dynamo from Rangiora, New Zealand, who will be better known in North America within a few years.

He doesn't hit it long, but he can putt, and even in this era of extreme length, a great putter is a match for anyone.

Kobori, 49th in the word rankings, proved that on Saturday, Aug. 5, scoring a 1 up victory over Christiaan Maas of Pretoria, South Africa to capture the 121st Western Amateur. His 15-foot birdie putt at the last locked up the title in the first all-Southern Hemisphere championship match in Western Am history.

It also made Kobori the first player to win a Western Am after capturing a pro tournament since Phil Mickelson, whose Western Am crown came eight months after he won the 1991 Tucson Open as an amateur. The Japanese-born Kobori, 21, has won two events open to pros, including the New Zealand PGA.

Joining a list of champions featuring Jack Nicklaus and Tiger Woods, along with Mickelson, Ben Crenshaw, Chick Evans and Francis Ouimet? Well, that's another level.

"To win one is something I never imagined," Kobori said. "It feels incredible."

Kobori also locked up the Elite Amateur Series title with the victory, and that brings him an exemption into the 2023 U.S. Amateur, a Korn Ferry Tour start in 2024 and an exemption into final qualifying for the 2024 U.S. Open. He'll also get an exemption into the WGA's 2024 NV5 Championship at The Glen Club for a second Korn Ferry start.

For a while in the championship match, it appeared neither Kobori nor Maas really wanted to grab hold of the George Thorne Trophy. The grind of the format – the title match was their eighth round of competition in five days, plus a pair of practice and co-am rounds – mitigates against really crisp play at the end.

First, Maas hooked an approach into the hedge well left of the par-4 second green. That he escaped with a miraculous par from out of the front greenside bunker following chopping out from the hedge is to his credit.

"He's left of left, finds it, and then I had a weird feeling he was going to hole the bunker shot," Kobori said.

But Maas bogeyed the next two holes to give Kobori a 2 up lead. Then Kobori watched Maas go around the turn at North Shore 3-3-3, winning the ninth and 10th to take the lead. Kobori needed to answer.

"I was playing well, but Christiaan was playing well and I knew it was a matter of time," Kobari said. "He putted unreal."

Kobari's 15-foot birdie putt at the last finished the match, the ball falling into the cup with its last turn as 300 spectators watched.

Gilligan makes history with a victory 29 holes in the making

By IG News Services
Reporting from Dayton, Ohio

The toughest test in amateur golf saw its most grueling edition.

After both won a 19-hole match in the semifinals on Saturday morning, Florida teammates Ian Gilligan and Jack Turner battled across 29 holes in the afternoon to determine a champion at Moraine Country Club. The 13-hour day ended with Gilligan hoisting the George R. Thorne trophy on the 11th playoff hole of the longest match in Western Amateur history.

"After hours and hours of a grind of a match, I couldn't be happier to have pulled it out in the end," Gilligan said. "It was a battle of energy levels and so hard to stay focused all day, but it ended up being an unbelievable day. I can't even put it into words."

Gilligan, a senior from Reno, Nev., rolled in an 8-foot birdie putt on the 29th hole to seal the match, pumped his arms in the air and joined in a shared sigh of relief with the crowd that followed the nearly 7-hour match.

"Definitely the craziest match I've ever been a part of or heard of," Gilligan said. "I think I owe an apology to everyone for making it so long."

The match began with Gilligan and Turner, a sophomore, trading birdies, halving just one of the first nine holes. Gilligan took a 2-up lead into No. 17, needing to tie one of the final two holes to secure the win.

Instead, Turner fought back to win No. 17 and capitalized on a Gilligan miss at the last to even the match, forcing a playoff.

The Gators went shot-for-shot the next 10 holes, topping the record for longest match set by Mitch Mooney and Scott Hoch's 26-hole match in the 1979 Round of 16.

The record for the longest Western Am final in the single-round era– a 22-hole affair featuring Norman Xiong and Doc Redman in 2017 – was beat more than an hour before Gilligan was crowned champion.

"Jack and I were talking about it on our ninth playoff hole and decided we were ready for it to be over," Gilligan said with a laugh. "But I just kept telling myself you're playing for a tournament of the biggest magnitude and need to keep going."

After playing 154 holes in only five days, Gilligan's name is now etched on the George R. Thorne trophy alongside the likes of Western Amateur champions Tiger Woods, Phil Mickelson and Jack Nicklaus. He's the first Gator to win since Bubba Dickerson in 2001 and joins a lengthy list of Florida winners, including major champions Andy North and Tommy Aaron.

The victory further cements Gilligan's status as one of the world's top amateurs. Currently No. 14 in the World Amateur Golf Ranking, Gilligan enterd his senior season No. 8 in the PGA TOUR University Ranking.

Summy puts the bite on Fang in Western Am final rout

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Glencoe, Illinois

Jase Summy and Ethan Fang grew up about 40 miles from each other in Texas, Summy in Keller, Fang in Plano. They've been playing golf against each other since they were 10 and 11, Summy the elder by a few months. Good health and good golf swings willing, they'll be playing each other for another 40 years.

Saturday, Aug. 2, Summy went 1-up on Fang in significant championships. Summy scored a 6 and 5 victory over Fang in the 123rd Western Amateur championship match.

Fang entered the higher-ranked player in the world rankings – No. 3 to Summy's No. 9 – and had an easier time of it in his morning semifinal, but that meant nothing once Summy dropped a 12-footer for birdie on the par-3 second and two-putted for birdie from 50 feet on the par-5 third.

Summy was 2 up and was on his way. Fang closed the gap with a birdie on No. 7, but when Summy won Nos. 8, 9 and 10 with a pair of pars and a birdie, the die was cast.

The par-5 13th is where time ran out. Fang rinsed his approach to the green, and once he failed to hole a desperation par putt, his hat was off and hand extended. Golf's version of Bedlam – Summy represents Oklahoma, Fang Oklahoma State – was over in three quarters. Summy is the first Sooner to win the Western Amateur since Charlie Coe in 1950.

"It was a tough week," said Summy, who played 67 match play holes in two days after 72 stroke-play holes and surviving sudden-death in qualifying. "I felt I did a good job preparing mentally and physically. It was cool playing against Ethan. We've been playing together and against each other for a long time. At the end of the day, we're still friends."

The margin matched the largest in a final since the 18-hole format was adopted in 1961. John Klauk defeated Adam Robinson by a similar 6 and 5 margin at Point O Woods in 2002. It was also 16 holes shorter than last year's 29-hole marathon in which Ian Gilligan outparred Jack Turner.

The Western Amateur Championship – Page 69

Summy, 4-under in 13 holes to Fang's 4-over, including the usual concessions, considered the 50 or so minutes between the dramatic end of his semifinal over Zackary Swanwick and the 90-odd minutes Fang rested after romping over Jacob Modleski a bit of an advantage.

"I knew I was swinging it good and felt confident," Summy said. "I started to have some good pace on the greens."

He made the final after trailing Swanwick 1 down on the 18th tee, and then saw his tee shot, and Swanwick's, find fairway bunkers to the right. But Summy was next to the green with his second shot, and while he needed three more to get in the hole, Swanwick made a dog's breakfast of it, taking 6 and double-bogeying his way to the 19th hole.

"I was just trying to make a good four, and ended up making bogey and it was enough to win," Summy said of the 18th. "I don't like that bunker and it doesn't like me."

On the 19th, Swanwick three-putted from above the hole, sealing his fate.
